To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to provide this letter of reference for Roger Layman of RL Architecture based on his work with Colleton County Animal Services during the planning and design phase of our new animal services facility.

Roger played a key role in helping us develop a thoughtful and functional design and floor plan that reflects both the operational needs of an animal shelter and the realities of working within a government framework. He successfully coordinated the necessary engineering services and ensured that all components of the project moved forward in a cohesive and organized manner.

Throughout this process, Roger demonstrated exceptional patience and professionalism. Projects involving government agencies often require extended timelines, multiple layers of review, and evolving requirements, and Roger consistently approached each step with understanding and flexibility. He communicated clearly, responded promptly, and worked collaboratively with staff, engineers, and other stakeholders to keep the project progressing.

Roger's ability to balance creative design, technical coordination, and the unique demands of a government customer made him an invaluable partner. I would not hesitate to recommend him to any organization seeking an architect who is skilled, dependable, and experienced in navigating complex public-sector projects.

Please feel free to contact me if additional information would be helpful.

Sincerely,

Laura Clark
